THE ISLAND IN SACO RIVER,

Known As

Bonython's - Indian - Cutts - Factory.

In 1667 Maj. Wm. Phillips, assignee of the grantees of the Biddeford patent, conveyed to Capt. John Bonython one-half of the Island for 600 pine trees suitable to make merchantable boards.

The same year the Island was divided between them, Phillips taking the Westerly and Bonython the Easterly half. The Island is not mentioned in the deed to or from Benj. Blackman. Maj. Phillips died 1683 and bequeathed to his wife and sons Sam'l and Wm. his half of the Island. Sam'l in 1691 sold his part to Capt. Geo. Turfrey. Wm's children inherited his part.

In 1717 and 1718 after the sale by Pepperell of one-quarter of his purchases to Nath'l Weare of Hampton and one-quarter to Capt. Humphrey Scamman, Jr., a division was made between them and they claimed 171%, Oct. 20, the Island, then called "Indian" - but did not make partition.

In 1759 Col. Thos. Cutts bought a small undivided part for $90 - being one-quarter of Weare's share, and built a one story building for store and house at S. W. end of the Island (where it remains in 1871.) A bridge had recently been built on the East side a little above that now leading from Main St. and a road laid out to S. W. part of the Island. The Ferry was at same time established from the Island to Allen's (now Capt. Sam'l White's) This bridge was built with proceeds of a Lottery authorized 1757 by Act of the Gen'l Court to Sir Wm. Pepperell, Rishworth Jordan and others. The bridge was completed before May 1759 and was carried away by the freshet of 1785. In 1786 Col. Cutts with $100 aid from the town built another bridge and toll was taken of strangers. This bridge in about twenty years became unsafe and Col. Cutts erected in 1803 another and at that time the direction of the road was altered. This bridge was carried away by the freshet of 1843, when another was built by the town. This bridge was rebuilt July 1860 and again in 1872.

The first bridge on West side of Indian Island was built 1767 by Col. Cutts, Dea. A. Chase, Benj. Nason and Thos. Gilpatric Jr., and in 1768 became a toll bridge.

Col. Cutts soon after bought the shares of Chase and Nason. This was carried away by the freshet of 1785 and Col. Cutts erected another.

In 1731 Mr. Weare sold three-quarters of his right in mills and lands to Richard Berry, John Elden and John Sellea, and not long after one-eighth to Thos. Dearborn and one-eighth to Abraham Tyler and Jere Moulton. In 1774 Col. Cutts bought the Pepperell half of the Island for about $1100. He had previously bought Sellea's one-sixteenth and one-sixteenth from McIntire of York, probably Elden's share. Other small parts were conveyed to him at different times by the Berrys or their assigns and the Scamman heirs.

In 1782 Col. Cutts moved into his new house and lived there until his death Jan'y 10, 1821. In 1821 there were on the Island the Iron Works (built 1811 by Col. C. and Josiah Calef) a double and a treble saw mill, a treble grist mill with several mechanics shops.

In the spring of 1825, Ap'l 19, the Island (except a small part belonging to Dominicus Cutts) was sold for $11,000 including Iron Works to Saco Manufacturing Company (principally of Boston) They also for $10,000 bo't a considerable part of the privilege on the opposite side of the river. In 1825, preparations only were made. In 1826 a mill was erected 210 feet long, 47 feet wide, of 7 floors, for 12000 spindles and 300 looms. By the summer of 1829, about 500 persons were employed by the Company of whom more than 400 occupied the Company's tenements on the Island. Early in 1830 the stock of machinery was completed at a cost of $200,000. The mill was burned Feb'y 21, 1830, Sunday P. M., between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

Before 1800 two saws were in operation on the Island. Soon after that time the treble saw mill was built on the Island.

The Island contains about 30 acres and until 1757 was covered by a forest of oaks.

Sept. 1718 division was made between the heirs of Maj. Phillips and of Capt. Turfrey of lands in Biddeford and included Bonython's and Cow Islands. From Davis' Brook (which crossed the road near the store of Dan'l Deshon) 80 rods were laid out on the river and running back 4 miles - to John Briggs who married Katherine daughter of Capt. Turfrey. Next above on the river -

160 rods to the Phillips heirs. In 1720 the Phillips heirs sold in part to Edward Bromfield, Jr., Thos. Salter and Sam'l Adams and Henry Hill of Boston. A few years later Briggs sold in part to Tristram Little of Newbury. In 1741 Sam'l Cole, Thos. Wheelwright and Benj. Goooh built a mill on what is now called Gooch Island. The saw mills on Springs Island were built 1794 to '98 by Capt. Seth Spring and Moses Bradbury. Capt. B. built the first house on that Island 1795. Soon after Capt. Spring built his Western bridge and 1797-98 built his Eastern bridge.

In 1831 the York Manufacturing Co. purchased the property of the Saco Manufacturing Co. and also bought ---------- the part of D. Cutts.

They built five mills, viz: No. 1 in 1832; No. 2 in 1836; No. 3 in 1838; No. 4 in 1841; No. 5 in 1846. The No. 1 mill was taken down 1869 and rebuilt in 1870. The original capital was one million - increased 1848 half a million. The Agents have been 1831 to 1846, Samuel Batchelder 1846 to 1854, Amos H. Boyd 1854 to 1856, Samuel J. Wetherell 1856 to 1867, H. Temple 1867 to ------- Ira H. Foss.

In 1840 the York Co. sold to Saco Water Power Co. the water power not reserved and also the S. E. and S. W. part of the Island below or South of the road.

In 1855, the York Co. sold for $25,000 to Saco and Biddeford Savings Institution the N. East part of the Island and that year the Institution built Calef Block and removed to it. This block is on the foundations of Cutts Block which was burned Sept. 1854 and which was built 184-. The residence of Hon. Richard Cutts was near the West end of the block and was taken down about 1847.

The Institution in 1859 sold the town of Saco for $1005.55 a lot on North corner near Gooch Island bridge for a jail lot, and a jail was built in 1859.

The Saco Water Power Nov. 1866 sold for $475,000 and liabilities its property to the Laconia and Pepperell Co's.

In 1859 the York Co. built a brick residence for their Agent on West side of Gooch St. on the Island.

The Post Office was on the Island 1802-07 and '45-'60.

The Masonic Hall has been on the Island since 1853.

Steamer Enterprize was launched from the Island

June 13, 1866, and has since from the Island wharf made trips to Boston.

In 1866 James Black built his Ice Houses on the Island.

In 1872 the Boston & Maine Railroad built the extension of their railroad across the Island from the land of the York Co. near East end of Gooch Island bridge, across Gooch St., the Saco jail lot, the land of Saco & Biddeford Savings Inst'n to West end of Cataract Bridge and over said bridge and Eastern branch of Saco river, over land where a dye house was and in front of brick grist mill across Front Street, Wharf Street, Common Street. The Co. bo't the jail lot for $7000 and the jail was taken down. They bo't of the Savings Inst. all of their land except that occupied by Calef Block, twenty feet in its rear and fourteen feet at its Westerly end. They removed the one story block of five stores between Calef Block and the East branch of the river. They paid $8000 for said low block - also $20,000 to Savings Inst.

Regular freight trains began to be run Jan'y 27, 1873.

Regular passenger trains began to be run March 17,

1873. Albion Sands commenced Jan'y 27 as Station Agent.

The freight depot was finished in Feb'y (raised the 5th.)

Feb'y 2; '74, Joshua Maxwell told me that as a Clerk with Dea. Jos. M. Hayes they came from Kennebunkport and took possession June 6, 1826 of the then new three story brick slated building on the Island, now occupied in part for the Express and Telegraph business. Dea. H. kept a variety store and did a large business. Mr. M. was with him twelve years, six as clerk and six as partner, born Wells March 1807.

Wm. Clark worked from 1826 to 1837 for Josiah Calef at his nail works on the Island where the upper N. W. part of the new mill of York Co. is (1876) A saw mill was where No. 3 or 4 mill is.

1880, June. The York Co., intending to erect a mill 500 X 75 feet four stories high, have taken down the store house, the tenements facing the mills, the Hayes store the last of the latter being leveled July 1st. The Express & Telegraph Co. moved into Calef Block 16 Main St., June 25.

EXTRACT FROM FOURTH OF JULY ORATION IN 1839, SACO, BY MOSES EMERY, ESQ. "What was our beautiful village fifty years ago? Some sixteen dwelling houses only were scattered about, here and there, among alder bushes and forest trees; with one little variety store on this, and one on the other side of the eastern branch of the river. The Island was then used as a cow pasture. Tall oaks stood on the north side of it - beautiful walnuts adorned the south eastern declivity, and a dense growth of alders covered the south western parts. Now and then a boy might be seen, leading a horse loaded with bags of corn over a low bridge on to the Island, and so along a broken, narrow road to the grist mill near the cataract,- or a customer with a long-tailed coat, wending his way to the store of Col. Cutts. Occasionally a lumber vessel might be observed, sitting in the water below the walnuts. In going along, one would pass perhaps, a fish net hanging on the trees to dry. At the proper times, might be noticed, about the falls, some two or three individuals with a bottle of rum at their side, dipping, alternately, for shad and salmon. Such, I am told was the appearance of Saco village, and Factory or Indian Island some fifty years gone by.

1814 - 50 YEARS AGO.

Nov. 16,'64 Tristram Jordan aged 66 years, remembers 50 years and more. Then were standing on Elm St. only the one story Nye house now occupied by Aug. D. Bowe. The house lately occupied by Edw. Tucker on Elm near junction with Scamman St. was hauled about 40 years ago from the site of the Steph. Sawyer house, between Rish. Jordan Jr's and Jos. W. Burrows. Dea. Sam'l Scamman lived in it nearly all his life. On Main St. were standing the Enoch Moody house until recently occupied by Ch. Trull; the Geo. Scamman house; the Joshua Moody house, now occupied by Col. Th. W. Shannon's widow; the Philips house being the one story front part of Paul C. Sand's house; Sam'l Hartley's house; Sam'l Nye's house; Marshal Thornton's house where the Town House and Cutts Avenue are; Foxwell Cutts house, afterwards the "Thornton House," Saco Bank building, now the brick part of James Beatty's store; the two story brick block of stores at corner of Pleasant St; Seth Storer's mansion; two wooden stores and in the rear James and Nath'l Scamman's house (the cellar is in rear of S. S. Mitchell's and Twambley & Smith's stores;) the Assembly building now occupied by Wm. Perkins; John F. Scamman's father's house in the rear. On southerly side of Main St. Cyrus King's house (Wm. Cutts house was built 1825) Ch. S. Patten's house was taken down from its location in upper part of the town and set up again ab't 40 yrs. ago by Mr. Billings who sold it to T. Jordan and he to Gen'l Boyd. The house now owned by Mr. J. was built by Dan'l Granger. Mr. J. bo't it of Capt. Ioh'd Jordan.

On Buxton road a house where Th. Fowler lives; one opposite S. L. Goodale's; Dea. S. Scamman's one story house.

1824 - 40 YEARS AGO.

Wm. Littlefield (born Feb. 1812) informed me, Oct. 30, '64, that he well remembered 40 years - At that time the only house on Elm St. was the small one story house of his grandmother Woodbury, now standing near the corner of Elm and Pleasant - Storer, Pleasant, Thornton Avenue, Cutts Avenue and Cross Sts. were not then laid out, nor were there any buildings above Elm St., except on River and Buxton roads. On Water St. were Mr. Dennett's saw mill where Jos. Hobson's now is and a small one story house nearly opposite, occupied by Mr. D., and which is now standing. Between that and Main St. was but one building - the Jameson house of one story now standing.

This taken down in 1916 - F.C.D.

From Water St. to Buxton road on Main St. the buildings were few. On the northerly side the two story yellow house formerly occupied by John F. Scamman (rear of York Bank) - Capt. Seth Storer's mansion (now called Mechanics House) in whose front yard the Manufacturers Bank building is located - the two story brick block built 1803, now standing at corner of Pleasant St. and occupied by Messrs. Haines, Leavitt and Johnson - the Saco bank building now owned and occupied by James Beatty & Co. - The Thornton mansion afterwards burned while kept as the "Thornton House;" the house of Wm. Cutts, 1825; Samuel Nyes house. On the southerly side, part of Alex F. Chisholme house at corner of Beach St. was a shop; Ch. S. Patten's house; a part of C. Sweetsir's house was the cabinet shop of Buckminster & Forsskol; the Hamilton and Berry three story house then owned by Jos. Leland; Mrs. Shepley's house; Capt. Thos. Cutts house, now on Middle St. and occupied by his widow and T. Scamman; the one story house occupied by H. Wormell; Mrs. Sarah P. Moulton's house at corner of School St. was then the blacksmiths shop of her father Benj. Pike, who resided in the large house in the rear now occupied by Mrs. Ruth Washburn and others; E. R. Wiggin's house then owned by Jona. Tucker; the house occupied by widow of Hon. Cyrus King; the two story building for stores and families owned by part of Mr. King's heirs, now occupied in part by Harrison Cleaves; York Hotel; the bake house owned and occupied then by Sam'l Moody; on the site of the brick Moody and Thornton block was a wooden building occupied by Seth Storer for a law office and ; the stone at the corner built 1817; - The old Cleaves Hotel in Pepperell Square, burned in 1852 - On Wharf Hill were three houses now standing; on Middle St. were Dr. Shannon's since altered by his son Sam'l; the Dunn house rebuilt in 1863 by R. K. Twambley; Mrs. Hooper's house; Mrs. Townshend's one story wooden house; Stephen Fairfield's house remodeled 1854 by his son John; the one story house next to Abraham Cutter's; on High St. were the March house then owned by Ether Shepley; the Foxwell Cutts house; Nath'l Burbank's house; David Fernald's house; Major Milliken's house, rebuilt 1863 by John Gilpatric.

BIDEFORD, ENGLAND.

The following, copied from a letter of a former resident of Saco, will be found very interesting:

Bideford, Devonshire, England,

July 26, 1883.

My Dear A- :

I feel as if I must write to you from this quaint old town of Bideford, from which your Biddeford was named, though the original was spelled with only one d, yet is pronounced the same. We are making a trip through Somerset and Devon, which contain the finest coast scenery in England, and are enjoying it greatly, as we go by carriage with post horses, and can start and stop as we please.

We left Halse House in Somerset last Saturday, where we had been staying for two weeks on a visit to a friend of my husband, who has a fine estate and lovely place there, and have been travelling for five days about twenty miles a day, from one place of interest to another, resting and seeing whatever is worth seeing as we go on. We take carriage, horses and driver from one place and they return. It is more expensive than railroad traveling, but far pleasanter, as we send our large trunks on by train to a given point, and take only small packages and bags.

Some of the hills are very steep, so that an extra horse is provided at the foot to draw a heavy carriage up.

Bideford reminds me of your town, as it lies about as far from the sea and on the banks of the river Torridge, which is not unlike the Saco below the fall.

If you can imagine a stone bridge of twenty-three arches, going from the Island wharf to the old ship yard, it would give you something of the effect of this place. As I sit at the window of the hotel I look upon the water rushing with much noise through the arches and down the river. On this side of the bridge are many schooners lying at the wharf. Houses are built looking upon the river, with a narrow street between, and very steep streets run up the hill from it. On the opposite side of the river is a ship yard with a ship in the stocks, some houses and a railroad station, but both sides go by the name of Bideford.

When the tide goes out it leaves brown, sandy flats, like the Saco river, but when full a beautiful lake-like river, by far the largest I have seen in England. Five or six miles below is the Pool, where ships of 500 tons can lie. The early settlers named your Pool from this one. Few American travelers come to this region of England, as it is out of the way of any large towns, but to us who are not in a hurry it is pleasant to linger amid these queer villages and market towns of the olden time.

From the Biddeford Times.

RE-DEDICATION OF THE 2D CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Dr. Thomas Haley then read an historical sketch embracing the following ideas.

The Society was organized and incorporated in 1797, and is the oldest incorporated society in the two towns. It was formed by a colony from the 1st Parish, on liberal sentiments,- the first of its kind in the country. It was led by Judge Thacher, who was buried in the grave-yard adjoining. The house was built in 1797, but was a long time unfinished. The church was organized in 1805, during the ministry of Rev. John Turner, who was the first settled minister. Evangelical sentiments began to increase, and at length had the predominance, when in 1827, under Mr. Tracy, an emigration took place to Saco, as a good part of the support came from there, and became the 2d Parish Church. At Mr. Tracy's settlement occurred an exodus, and at the close of his ministry the Society re-organized, and in '41 repaired their house at an expense of $1000. In 1850, under Mr. Lord, the house was sold to the Free Will Baptist Society, and a new house built on the spot. Under Mr. Gould another exodus took place and formed the Pavilion Church in 1857, perfect harmony being maintained between the two churches. The present enterprise began in the Spring of 1871; now completed at a cost of $18,000. There is a debt of $7500.

VEXED QUESTION SETTLED

Portland Road is Main Street as Far as the Town Pump.

It has always been a question in the minds of a good many people in Saco where Main street ends and Portland road begins.

Many have always insisted that Main street ended at the corner of North and Beach streets and that all houses above there were upon Portland road, and were not entitled to the distinction of being known as located on Main street.

Others have always contended that it is Main street as far up as the town pump, and it now appears by the old town records that they are right.

Mayor Bradbury had occasion to examine the old town records a short time ago in looking up the location of a street and in so doing came across the report of a committee which in the year 1826 was appointed to give names to all the principal streets.

By this report it appears that Pepperell square is not Pepperell square at all, but Pepperrell square, spelled with two "r's." Main street, it also appears, extends from Pepperrell square out the old post road a mile, or in other words, as far as the town pump, so called.

As the record may be of interest it is given below.

At the annual meeting held April 3d, 1826 the following votes were passed:

Voted, That a committee of five be chosen to name such of the streets in the town of Saco as they shall deem expedient, and report a list of the same at the adjournment of this meeting, for the acceptance of the town.

Voted, That Ruben H. Green, Ether Shepley, George Thacher, Samuel Moody and Jonathan King be said committee.

An adjourned meeting was held in the "vestry" on the afternoon of April 24th, 1826, and the following appears upon the records of that meeting:

The committee chosen to name such of the streets in the town of Saco as they shall deem expedient, have attended that service and report:

That as much of the streets as are included in these, the following boundaries, to wit: Beginning at the north corner of the house of John T. Cleaves and running north forty-eight degrees west until it strikes the line of John F. Scamman, thence northwesterly by said Scamman's & Jonathan King's stores to the northeast corner of the store improved by Benjamin Jacobs, thence southeasterly by the stores occupied by Jonas C. Bradley, by Zebulon Howard and Cotton Bradbury to the north corner of Stephen Fairfield's shop, and thence northeasterly to the north corner of John T. Cleaves' store, and thence to the place of beginning, be called Pepperrell Square.

And that from Pepperrell Square northeasterly one mile on the Post road be called Main street.

From said square by the Common to Tucker's wharf - Common street.

From said square to the brook near the house of Moses Jacobs, deceased - Water street.

From said square over Warren's hill to Proprietor's wharf - Front street.

From Spring's bridge easterly to Main street - Elm street.

From Main street to the house of Mr. Ellis - Beach street..

From Common street to Beach street, by the houses of Stephen Fairfield and Richard C. Shannon - Middle street.

From Common street to Beach street, by the houses of David Fernald and Hannah D. Cutts - High street.

From Main street, by the house of John Spring to Elm street - Storer street.

From Main street, by Jonathan Tucker, Jr's, and Enoch Goodale's to Elm street - Pleasant street.

From Main street by Richard C. Thornton's house to Elm street - Cross street.

From Main street to the Academy - School street.

From Main street through the lumber yard to the Free bridge - Free street.

From Main street to the aqueduct fountain - North street.

From Main street southeasterly by the lands of Jonathan Cleaves and Samuel Hartley - Summer street.

From Summer street to Beach street - Winter street.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Reuben H. Green,

Per order of committee.

Voted, That the clerk make out a copy of the report of the committee for naming the streets, and hand it to the printers of the Palladium for publication next week.

March 8, 1883.

The first annual election of the new town of Old Orchard was held to-day. At an early hour the people began to gather around the place of meeting, and at the time for opening the polls nearly two hundred persons were present. In voting for third selectman one hundred and twenty-two votes were polled. The meeting was quiet and orderly although much interest was manifested in the election of all the town officers, and with the result all seemed to be well pleased. Quite a number of visitors were present.

A. A. Strout, Esq., of Portland, was present, and by his advice greatly assisted the citizens in conducting the business of starting the new town.

The meeting was called to order by Hampden Fairfield, Esq., of Saco, who read the warrant and presided until the Moderator was elected.

A 12,000 ACRE PURCHASE.

Oct. 23, 1891 - Boston Journal.

C. H. Stevens of St. Johnsbury, Vt., and B. C. Garland and L. D. and L. T. Hazen of Whitefield, N. H. have bought the Cutts Grant in the valley of Mt. Washington, embracing about 12,000 acres of timber, mostly spruce. The land was purchased from parties in Portland and Saco, Me., and it is stated that the amount paid was $40,000.

The syndicate will build a railway branch about eight miles in length, and will erect a mill with a manufacturing capacity of about 15,000,000 feet of lumber a year. It is said that Mr. Garland will be general manager of the enterprise.

AN ANCIENT CHURCH.

Commemorative Religious Service at Waldoboro, Me.

Special Dispatch to The Boston Journal.

Rockland, Me., Aug. 11. One of the important events in religious circles in this section is the annual commemorative service in the old German Lutheran Church at Waldoboro'. That town was settled in 1748 by German immigrants, who came over here at the solicitation of one of General Wald[illegible]'s agents. As one of the stones in the old grave yard quaintly says: "They came here expecting to locate in a populous city, but found only a wilderness suffering greatly from Indian depredations and starvation. But by perseverance and courage they succeeded in clearing enough land to give them sustenance. They landed first in Cushing and were afterward transferred to the site of the present town of Waldoboro'." They were a very devout people. One of the first edifices erected was a church, which was begun on the eastern bank of the river, but as there was some doubt about the title to the land the structure was taken down, removed across the river and erected where it now stands unchanged. The church is a two-story structure, the frequency of windows alone distinguishing it from a hay barn in appearance. It was built of pine, the supporting timbers being a foot square. The pews are square, with seats around three sides. The congregation when assembled have all the effect of a number of tete-a-tete parties facing each other in quartettes. The pulpit is very aspiring, being reached by a lofty flight of stairs, and is overhung by a big sounding board.

The church was crowded to-day, excursions being run over the Knox and Lincoln Railroad. Rev. D. H. Hadlock of the Waldoboro' Methodist Church conducted the services, the local clergymen alternating from year to year in conducting this annual service. Services were conducted in German in this church until about 1830, when the congregation had become anglicized enough to put up with broken English. Regular services have not been held here for about fifty years. The old graveyard that occupies the grassy slope back of the church has many interesting inscriptions and graves. One stone marks the resting place of two of the old church pastors, who died while on duty here. One is Rev. Augustus Rudolphus Benedictus Ritz, who was born in Germany in 1753 and died here in 1854. The second is that of Rev. John W. Starman, the church's last pastor, who died here in 1854. Near at hand is the grave of Conrad Heyer, the first child born of European parents in Waldoboro'. Heyer died in 1856, aged 106 years. He served three years in the Revolutionary War. The church still maintains an organization, the present officers being as follows: Moderator, Isaac Achorn; Treasurer and Collector, Geo. D. Gides; Sexton, Miles W. Standish. The last named is a lineal descendent of the old and original Miles.
